A meeting will be held tomorrow by Chairman Edwards of Marshall county and Chairman Morrison of this county to count the votes for circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney. Chairman Edwards still refuses to allow a count of the Marshall county votes and the matter stands the same. Chairman Morrison will refuse to issue a certificate unless the matter is settled and if Chairman Edwards does not agree on a count Attorney Taylor has signified his intention of contesting.

TROUBLE IS BREWING

Big Leakage in Army Supplies to States.

Reported, That the Disappearance of Goods Will Be Investigated.

NOTHING OFFICIAL GIVEN OUT

Boston, Mass., May 20.—Private Washington advises state that another sensational war department scandal is expected at any moment. An investigation is to be started, which will involve the militia department of nearly every state in the union. The investigation has been overdue for some time. Among the knowing ones the only wonder is that it has been held off so long.

Somewhere between the quartermaster's department at the capital and the quartermaster's department of the various state militia organizations there has been a huge misappropriation of supplies, and United States army men propose to probe the mystery to its greatest depths. There are hints of rottenness in some state systems, but just what states are included is not definitely known as yet. But it is known for a certainty that the allotment of supplies for many of the states has provided means for an immense "graft."

Some astounding conditions are expected to be revealed by the coming inspections which regular army officers are to make of state militia organizations. These inspections are for no other purpose than to find out how much of the government supplies have been used up in private "graft," and the officers detailed will be under the most rigid orders.

TO BE OPERATED ON

E. H. HARRIMAN TO HAVE HIS APPENDIX ELIMINATED.

New York, May 20.—It was decided after a consultation of physicians and surgeons to operate on E. H. Harriman. This decision, however, is contingent on the advice of Dr. E. L. Trudeau, who last summer attended Mr. Harriman at Paulsmiths, in the Adirondacks, where he had his first attack of appendicitis. Mr. Harriman is almost well from his second attack and is in good condition for the operation.

POISONED WHISKEY

Said to Have Been Given Curtis Jett.

But the Jailer Got it First—Jett Is Still in Jail at Winchester Ky.

WHISKEY BEING ANALYZED

Winchester, Ky., May 20.—It has just been disclosed that an attempt to poison Curtis Jett was made at the jail here last Sunday. A stranger appeared that day and asked to see Jett. He was admitted by Jailer Boone, who remained with him. Jett did not recognize the man, who talked to him quite familiarly. After a while the stranger drew from his pocket a bottle of whiskey and offered it to Jett, but Jailer Boone took the bottle from Jett's hand as he was about to drink. Jett protested, saying he wanted the whiskey, and Jailer Boone refused to let him have it.

Jailer Boone started to walk away with the bottle, when the stranger became nervous and asked that he be given the bottle. Jailer Boone kept it and the stranger soon left, showing signs of uneasiness. It has been found that the whiskey contained poison and it will be sent to the state college here for further analysis.

ABSOLUTE PROOF SAID TO HAVE BEEN FOUND IN FAIR CASE.

San Francisco, May 20.—Absolute proof that Mrs. Charles L. Fair died before her husband in the automobile accident in France is said to be in possession of the attorneys who have charge of the interests of Mr. Fair's relatives. Attorney George A. Knight, who returned home yesterday from Paris, whither he had gone to secure evidence to combat the claim of the members of Mrs. Fair's family that Mr. Fair's wife survived him and therefore inherited all his property, stated that he was now prepared to show that the witnesses brought to this country by the Nelson family testified falsely.

READY FOR OPENING

Many Establishments to Close For Tomorrow's Game.

Yesterday Paducah and Jackson Played in the Mud and Paducah Lost.

SOME NEW PLAYERS

The Paducah league team arrived here at 2 o'clock this morning from Jackson where they yesterday lost the second game to Jackson. The score was 7 to 3 and the grounds were covered with mud several inches thick. There was a small attendance at both games. Morgan pitched yesterday and Clifford caught. The boys went out today to practice for Thursday's opening game and are working hard.

Collins, the Nashville man, was released yesterday and has gone to Clarksville as there was some contention on the part of the Clarksville team relative to his signing.

John Masseman, of Cincinnati, the Sunday league man, arrived last night and is now ready for work. He is a third baseman and looks a ball player thoroughly.

J. E. Limbert, of Dayton, O., a catcher, reported here last night for duty and will be given a trial this afternoon. He comes with an excellent record.

Nothing further has been heard about Street, the Hopkinsville catcher. This matter will be settled before Thursday however. If he has signed with Hopkinsville he will go with that team but if not will come to Paducah.

Hedges will pitch tomorrow's game and Limbert will probably catch. Lloyd will umpire.

Today a secer's and press bench is being placed in the grand stand.

The banks will close tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock to give their employees an opportunity to witness the opening of the league baseball season.

THE WIND-UP

Carnival Association Preparing to Settle All.

Over $4,000 Has Been Cleared From Last Week's Festivities.

It was authoritatively announced this morning that the Carnival association cleared from the carnival last week over $4,000. It was thought this would be about the amount, but today Secretary Bronaugh states authoritatively that the net proceeds will be slightly over $4,000.

Tonight the committee meets to pay bills, all of which are in, and close up the business. The stockholders of the association, it is understood, will be given the privilege of either turning in their stock and receiving what they paid in, or of holding it and securing a dividend. It is probable the association will remain a permanent fixture and give an annual festival, whether it be a fair, carnival, street fair, or something more modern yet to be devised by hustlers in the show business.

Secretary Bronaugh stated that every evidence of the carnival has been removed, and the pavement near Sixth and Broadway, which was damaged by the heavy wagons of the animal show, have been repaired with new brick, and the brick street at Second, injured by heavy spikes driven into it for the cycle whirl, has been repaired so it cannot be told that there was ever a brick touched.

TODAY'S ARRESTS.

A GIRL CHARGED WITH HAVING STOLEN DIAMOND.

Mabel McDaniels, white, was arrested this morning by Officer Black Whitehurst on a charge of receiving or stealing a diamond ring valued at $60 from a widow named Mrs. Cooney, of the North Side. She was locked up in default of bail.

HOT FIGHT PROMISED

Merchants Preparing to Contest New License Law.

The Result Will Have a Bearing on a Number of Other City Licenses.

NO SETTLEMENT SOON

The test case to decide whether or not the city of Paducah can use the number of clerks employed by a merchant as a basis for determining the amount of license he must pay to do business, promises to arouse a great deal of interest, because it is new so far as the merchants themselves are concerned, and because the result of it will have a distinct and important bearing on a number of other licenses and indirectly on city finances themselves.

Heretofore all retail merchants have been paying the same license, but when the last license tax ordinance was prepared it was decided to require a license based on the number of clerks employed, thus making the merchant with big capital, big stock and large business, to pay more than the small merchant with the small business, just as the man with much property has to pay more taxes than the man with little property or none at all. The principal reason this was adopted, aside from the apparent equity of the case, was that it would bring in more revenue than the old way.

The merchants have tried to have that part of the ordinance repealed, but without success. A warrant, as told yesterday, has now been issued against the Rhodes-Burford company simply as a test case, and it has been set for Friday in order to allow the attorneys to prepare their respective sides of the case. The merchants are required under the ordinance to pay a license representing $2 on each clerk employed. It is claimed by the city's legal representative that the ordinance does not "tax the clerk" as is supposed, but simply requires the license to be based on the number of clerks employed, as this shows the relative amount of business done.

If the present law is knocked out, it is claimed, so will that be requiring the street car company to pay a license for each car it runs, the one requiring barbers to pay a license based on the number of chairs in their shop, the companies who are required to pay on each vehicle they run, such as transfer companies and hackmen, proprietors of billiard halls, who are required to pay a license commensurate with the number of tables, tobacco companies which are made to pay a license based on the number of hogsheads of tobacco they handle, and insurance companies, which are now charged a license of so much for each kind of insurance they write.

The principle of law involved in all of these cases, and in others, is claimed to be the same, and if the "clerk license" is knocked out, the others will be also, according to some, depriving the city of considerable revenue. The consequence is the city is preparing to make a hot fight, and so are the merchants. It is probable, however, that the question will not be settled any time soon, as it will no doubt be taken as high as possible by whichever side loses.

GREAT SUCCESS.

PRETTY OPERA GIVEN AT METROPOLIS LAST EVENING.

Misses Nell and May Bleich returned this morning from Metropolis, where they attended the opera "Olivette" given by amateur talent there last night. It was a splendid performance, according to those present, and the principal part was taken by Miss Ethel Connor, a young lady well known and popular in Paducah, where she has often visited the Misses Bleich. Another who made a hit was Mrs. Gilbert Willis.

Mr. M. Nance and daughter, Miss Hattie, will go to Nashville Saturday as delegates to the Presbytery from the First Cumberland church here.

CLEANER COACHES

State Board of Health to Pass Stringent Rules

Transmission of Disease Through Coaches and Sleepers to Be Stopped if Possible.

BOARD MEETS FRIDAY

The state board of health is to take steps to enforce sanitation in the passenger coaches and sleepers of all railroads running into Kentucky, which is a matter it is alleged has been sadly neglected in the past.

Doctors have long complained that disease was spread rapidly by the germs being left in the cushions of passenger coaches and sleepers.

Recently a fully developed case of smallpox was hauled for hundreds of miles through Kentucky in a passenger coach and upon discovery of the nature of the disease nothing whatever was done to disinfect the cars in which the patient had traveled, consequently it is not known how many persons caught, or were exposed to, the disease, as a result of this one incident.

A call has been issued for a special meeting of the state board of health at the Galt house at Louisville on Friday afternoon. The sole purpose is to take steps looking toward the improved health facilities of coaches and Pullman cars operated in Kentucky. The investigation recently conducted by the health board bids fair to take material form in the shape of stringent requirements affecting every passenger coach, Pullman or otherwise, that enters or traverses the state of Kentucky.

It is claimed by health authorities that there is no worse conductor of disease than the passenger coach unless special care is taken for the welfare of the patrons of a road. It is alleged that diseases of various forms have been transmitted in this way, and will continue to be transmitted unless a decisive action is taken. There has been an investigation as to the legal right to act, and a favorable report has been received. The sessions may consume two days.

The health regulations which may be promulgated will include sections requiring better ventilated coaches; coaches kept absolutely clean at all times; a more perfect sanitation; the use of disinfectants and all other precautions that tend to insure the physical welfare of the railroad's patrons. In the first place, the charge is made by some medical authorities that no passenger coach is absolutely clean; that nearly always the sanitation is imperfect, generally insufficient; that the ventilation is invariably faulty, and that many opportunities for choking off the transmission of disease are not heeded.

The members of the state board of health are Dr. Joseph M. Mathews, of Louisville, president; Dr. J. N. McCormick, of Bowling Green, secretary; Dr. William Bailey and Dr. Chester Mayer, of Louisville; Dr. George T. Fuller, of Mayfield; Dr. L. L. Robertson, of Middlesboro, and Dr. I. A. Sherley, of Winchester.

NATIONAL ART THEATRE.

JOSEPH JEFFERSON DISCUSSED PROBLEM TO BE SOLVED.

New York, May 20—A meeting in furtherance of the plan for the establishment of a National Art theater was held in the Garrick theater. Joseph Jefferson made the principal address, in the course of which he said that while he was in favor of an endowed theater there were many problems to be solved.

"I believe," said Mr. Jefferson, "that it is much better to call attention to the stumbling blocks before the project is under way than after. Forewarned is forearmed. The people who subsidize the theater will be very exacting in their demands of the actors and very critical. The authors will be severely criticized. If a theater can be established with a saving of rent and a continued subsidy it is sure to be a success. It will be able to present more finely the drama. The drama is better than ever today. Not only commercially, but artistically, and it is better acted. It is far better represented than ever."

THE LAST WORLD

GOV. PENNYPACKER SAYS HE DID NOT DESIGNATE NELAN AS AN OUTCAST.

Philadelphia, May 20—In answer to the letter of May 15 from Charles Nelan, cartoonist of the North American, demanding a retraction of the epithet "Outcast," used by Governor Pennypacker in his reasons for signing the Grady-Salus libel bill, the governor has replied as follows:

"Harrisburg, Pa., May 16. "Sir—Your letter addressed to me has just been received. You are entirely correct in saying that your personality has never come under my observation, and I may add that I am entirely unconscious of ever having made in any way, reference to you. Respectfully yours,

"SAMUEL W. PENNYPACKER."

Mr. Nelan has closed the correspondence with a reply in which he says in part:

"The state of the case as now presented by your letter of disclaimer is this:

"I drew a cartoon which I signed with my name. You saw it and studied it. You said the man who drew it was a 'hired outcast.'"

"You now say you are entirely unconscious of having referred to me by this imputation.

"Whether this will hold together as a logical and veracious syllogism, the public will have to determine. I am not going to quibble over the matter, but shall give you the benefit of every technicality, and of all presumptions in favor of the candor and truthfulness of your statement. I shall not endeavor to hold you for your negligence merely under the provisions of the new law, the percentage of which is generally imputed to you."

TO DYNAMITE TRAIN

THREAT OF ONE WHO WANTS $5,000.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 20—An effort has been made to extort $5,000 from the Burlington railway officers here under a threat to blow up with dynamite one of the fast mail trains running between Kansas City and Omaha. A decoy in the form of a bag filled with rocks was placed at a spot designated by the robbers, near the town of Watson, Mo. At midnight last night the form of a man was seen to approach the bag, but rapidly disappeared upon discovery of a posse lying in wait. He was captured by the officers and proved to be J. H. Franklin, a young farmer. He declined to give the names of others who are supposed to be with him in the plot.

It is also hoped to arrange a regular old-time fair, which would no doubt bring here a large per cent of all the farmers and their families in the county and surrounding counties.

Mixed Up on Root's Name. Somebody down in Tennessee apparently thinks that Secretary Root is a Chinaman. A man in Knoxville sent him a letter the other day addressed "Hon. Li Hu Root, Secretary of War."

THE SKIN LIKE A SPONGE

Through the millions of little mouths, or pores, the skin absorbs from the surrounding atmosphere innumerable poisons, and takes into the blood and system the virus of the most deadly diseases. It is as porous as a sponge, and is supplied with a perfect network of tiny blood vessels that carry to the great current of the blood the impurities and poisons that are absorbed by the skin, and diseases thus contracted become constitutional, deep-seated and as dangerous as those brought on in other ways.

POISON OAK, IVY and other noxious wild plants growing in field and forest percolate through the skin like water through a sponge, and are taken up by the blood, where they linger on for years, breaking out again each season or until the poison has been antidoted and driven from the blood.

BARBER'S ITCH breaks out in yellow pustules and red, angry looking bumps, sometimes covering the entire bearded portion of the face, causing the greatest pain and annoyance, and itching and burning almost incessantly.

DYE POISONING is a common occurrence among the employees of dye houses, and from wearing under-clothing and hosiery colored with cheap dye stuffs which soak through the skin, poison the blood and spread throughout the system, causing boils and sores and great injury to health.

BLOOD POISON, the most loathsome of all human maladies, is often contracted through a friendly hand shake or handling the clothing or some other article used by one afflicted with this disease. The deadly virus finds its way into the blood through the skin, and the body is soon covered with offensive ulcers and red eruptions and blotches.

WORKERS IN LEAD, BRASS AND OTHER METALS—The use of chemicals and acids in the polishing of brass and other metals is attended sometimes with fearful consequences; the acids entering through the pores of the skin are taken into the general circulation, and frightful sores break out, and the general health and system are affected by these dangerous chemicals. Invisible atoms and dust in foundries and factories settle upon the skin and produce irritating eruptions followed by painful boils and obstinate sores.

The diseases that enter the blood and system through the skin are as real, deep-seated and dangerous as those brought on by internal causes, and require the same thorough and radical treatment. You cannot reach them with washes, salves, soaps or other external remedies. The poison must be antidoted or counteracted and the blood purified before the sores and eruptions disappear, and S. S. S. cures by ridding the blood and system of the original poison, and not an atom or taint is left to re-ferment and bring on a fresh outbreak.

S. S. S. is guaranteed entirely vegetable, an unrivaled blood purifier and the best of all tonics. If your health has been broken down by chemical or lead poisoning, or the effects of blood poison, nothing will give such quick relief as S. S. S. If you are suffering from Barber's Itch or some other eruptive disease, or there is still lurking in your veins Oak or Ivy poison, S. S. S. will drive it out and make a complete and permanent cure.

Write us freely should you desire medical advice or any specific information about your case. This will cost you nothing. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

Money to Loan On Real Estate and Collateral

ANY WOMAN MAY BE CURED.

MRS. FRANCES KINGSLEY, First Vice-President of the Historical Club, 544 Garfield Ave., Chicago, Ill., says

CHICAGO, ILL., 544 Garfield Avenue, October 9, 1902.

After doctoring for eleven months and taking forty-three bottles of medicine and finding no relief for leucorrhea resulting from irritation of a fallen womb I took Wine of Cardui and fourteen bottles cured me. This seems strange but it is the simple truth. Wine of Cardui helped me from the time I began taking it and having heard it praised so highly by friends who had tried it I felt satisfied that it would help me, and it did. It cured me. Took every bit of ache, pain and headache, cramps and dragging down sensations away till I felt young, strong and happy once more. It is a wonderful medicine and a true friend to women. When I look back on the months of torture I had it seems like a hideous nightmare. Wine of Cardui will cure any woman I believe. I have more faith in it than all other medicines combined.

Frances Kingsley

Who would go on suffering female troubles after reading the earnest statement of this prominent woman? Are you suffering from leucorrhea? Have you the irritation of a fallen or misplaced uterus? Do you have periodical headaches? Do you have aches, pains or cramps in the abdomen? Have you "bearing down pains"? Do you feel as if you were never "young, strong and happy"? If you go to a physician after a local examination, he will probably tell you an operation is necessary. Mrs. Kingsley took Wine of Cardui and she was cured without an operation. And this is what you may do. Shooting pains, irregularity, inflammation and bearing down pains make thousands of women miserable. Why drag through life never enjoying anything? Wine of Cardui has made over 1,500,000 weak and suffering women well and strong. We ask you to go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin to take it at once. Do that and the health Mrs. Kingsley writes about will soon be yours. If you think special directions are needed in your case, address, giving symptoms, Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

SEVEN PER CENT BASIS.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL WILL IN-CREASE ITS DIVIDENDS IN AUGUST.

Chicago, May 20.—The Illinois Central will be put on a 7 per cent dividend basis the coming August. This information is authoritative; it comes from an official high in the councils of the company.

The organization has a remarkably good dividend record. Disbursements were made irregularly until January, 1860, when semi-annual payments were commenced, and have been disbursed regularly ever since, a record of forty-two years of uninterrupted disbursements. From 1863, with the exception of 1877, the rate has never been less than 5 per cent, and in some particulars as high as 8. The amount was uniformly 5 per cent for the ten years preceding 1900, when it was advanced to 6 per cent, and stands at that now. Taking in the value of the various rights which stockholders have had, the income would average larger, especially in the past two years.

Several other roads will follow the Illinois Central's example, notably the Erie on the first preferred, in advancing the dividend rate.

BANKRUPTCY CASE.

PETITION FILED BY MERCHANTS OF THE COUNTY.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed late yesterday afternoon in federal court here by Elijah Ogilvie and James B. Wiley of the Maxon's Mills section of the county, well known merchants. The liabilities of the firm are $2,000, and of the members individually $2,829, with $500 firm assets and none individually. Among the creditors are the following in Paducah: J. E. Ware, administrator, $34; A. M. Laevison & Co., $159.10; Hank Bros., $15; Hall Medicine Co., $7.50; Yeiser & McClrath, $4; I. Naubheim, $39.35; Walenstein Bros., $8; R. W. Jacobs, $30.

CURES WHEN DOCTORS FAIL.

Mrs. Frank Chlason, Patterson, La., writes June 8, 1901: "I had malaria fever in very bad form, was under treatment by doctors, but as soon as I stopped taking their medicine the fever would return. I used a sample bottle of Herbine, found it helped me. Then bought two bottles, which completely cured me. I feel grateful to you for furnishing such a splendid medicine, and can honestly recommend it to those suffering from malaria, as it will surely cure them." AN EIGHT HOUR BILL

Another Campaign for One to be Started Soon.

It Will Be Presented to Congress at Its Next Session.

Washington, May 20.—Already the campaign for another eight hour bill has been begun by the American Federation of Labor. An eminent lawyer has been engaged to draw a new measure, one that will be constitutional if possible.

It is the intention of the labor leaders to have this bill pass muster with the committee on education and labor of the senate, the senate itself and even the president. And further, the president is to be urged through all the pressure that can be brought to bear upon him to endorse this proposed act in his next annual message. At the same time the National Association of Manufacturers has begun active preparations to beat not only this bill, but also the anti-conspiracy bill, which would legalize a picket around any manufacturing plant.

Advices received from every section of the country indicate that the labor organizations and manufacturers are working with might and main to increase their strength to the maximum in preparation for the coming struggle, which, it is conceded on all sides, will be a fight to a finish.

BUILDING IN CITIES.

REPORTS FROM TWENTY-ONE
CITIES SHOW GAIN OVER
APRIL, 1902—COMPARATIVE TABLE.

Building operations for April in twenty-one of the principal cities of the country show an increase of 5 per cent over the corresponding period a year ago. Carefully compiled reports to Construction News show that during the month just closed permits were taken out in twenty-one cities for 7,067 building improvements aggregating a total cost of $28,291,035, against 7,078 improvements and $26,914,969 for the same month a year ago, an increase this year of $1,376,066, and a decrease of nine improvements.

An analysis of the report shows that twelve of the twenty-one cities show gains of from 6 to 170 per cent, while there were losses in nine of them of from 3 to 57 per cent. The most notable increase in building operations of the cities enumerated was the gain in Buffalo, attaining 170 per cent over the same month a year ago. This is followed in St. Louis by an increase of 113 per cent; Alleghany 71 per cent; St. Paul 34; Minneapolis 29; Milwaukee 23; Kansas City, 16; Memphis, 15; Atlanta, 11; Los Angeles, 9; New York, 8; and Washington, 6 percent. In the cities in which there was a decrease New Orleans led by 57 per cent, Indianapolis shows a falling off of 50 per cent, never 46, Chicago 30, San Francisco 26, Brooklyn 16, Seattle 10, Detroit 6, and Cincinnati 3 per cent.

NEW INVENTORY.

I. C. STOREKEEPER PREPARING TO BEGIN ONE.

Mr. Charles Harton, storeroom keeper for the local I. C., is preparing for an inventory of the storeroom which will begin on the 1st of June. An invoice is taken twice a year, and this will be the first of 1903. The stock is being assorted and placed so the invoice can get through as quickly as possible. The stock is large and it will require some little time to complete the inventory.

WESTERN UNION'S TROUBLES.

Washington, May 20.—The opinion of the supreme court of Missouri assessing the "system" of the Western Union telegraph company in that state at a valuation of $800,000 for the purpose of taxation was affirmed by the United States supreme court, notwithstanding the company's plea that the tax was not legal, because it was on its franchise, granted by the United States government, and therefore a tax on interstate commerce. Justice Brewer concurred in the result only, while Justices White and Peckham dissented.

THE CROPS.

PROSPECTS ARE BETTER AFTER LAST WEEK.

The weekly crop bulletin issued under the auspices of the weather bureau is out and is as follows:

The temperature was above normal the entire week and there was an abundance of sunshine. In the western section moderate showers occurred in many localities on the 13th and 14th, greatly improving the condition of crops in that part of the state. In the central and eastern sections no rain fell during the week, and crops are beginning to suffer from drouth. The land has baked and is too hard to work. This has seriously delayed the completion of corn planting and the preparation of tobacco land.

Wheat has improved considerably, especially in the western section.

Oats and rye are doing fairly well, but need rain in the eastern and central sections.

Corn planting is about over. Many early fields have been replanted.

Considerable tobacco was set out in the western section, but in the central and eastern sections the weather was too dry. The plants are fairly plentiful and generally about large enough to transplant.

Grass, gardens and potatoes are in fair condition, but needing rain in many places.

Apples are doing well. Strawberries are coming into market and are plentiful. Blackberries promise a good yield.

MOB DISPERSED

BUT NOT BEFORE THERE HAD BEEN BLOODSHED.

Harrisburg, Ill., May 20.—James Utler, who shot and killed Dock Jones, fatally wounded Jake Jones and slightly wounded Dick Jordan at Gallatin Saturday, was arrested and brought to this city today by Deputy Sheriff D. D. Lockwood and placed under $300 bond. Utler, who is a native of Kentucky, was employed as mine boss at the Galatia mines, and because of his refusal to allow a number of inexperienced miners to work at the face of the coal they became enraged, formed a mob and attempted to drive him out of the country. When the mob began to close in on him Utler fired into them with a pistol, killing Dock Jones instantly and wounding Jake Jones and Dick Jordan. Jake Jones is reported dying but it is believed Jordan will recover. Friends of Utler came to his assistance and dispersed the mob.

CEIVES SAD NEWS FROM

Mrs. Henry Robinson, wife of the well known barber at Smith's, last night received a telegram announcing that her brother, Mr. Lon Schütz, was killed at Deforest Junction, Ohio. As he was a railroad man it is supposed he was killed in a railroad accident, but no particulars were given.

The deceased was 33 years old, and leaves a wife and two children. His home was in Mt. Vernon, Ind., to which place Mrs. Robinson went today to attend the funeral.

FOR THOSE WHO

LIVE ON FARMS.

Dr. Bergin, Pana, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommend it to my friends, as I am confident there is no better made. It is a dandy for burns." Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns and bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.'s.

IT'S BENEFITS THAT COUNT.

The mayor of Lexington has taken exception to a paragraph in one of his papers that Lexington has the highest tax rate in the Union for the benefits received by the taxpayers. Mayor Duncan writes a card to the paper, and proves that he is something of a juggler with figures. He gives a table showing the tax rates to average $1.75 in the five cities, Covington, Frankfort, Newport, Owensboro, and Paducah. The highest is Owensboro, with a $2 tax rate. The mayor in compiling his table, however, neglects to show what the people get in the respective cities in the way of benefits. A city could well afford to have even a larger tax rate if the public were provided with modern conveniences and up-to-date, well-managed utilities in return.

But Lexington seems to be as unfortunate as Paducah. Last year we had a $1.85 rate and not a single improvement was made. There was absolutely nothing at the end of the year to show for the expenditure of nearly $200,000 except a number of fat, sleek officials who had a good time and never managed to miss salary day. This year the rate is $1.65, and we are not promised an abundance of improvements, although probably some time during the year the legislative boards will decide just what those we are to get will be. Thus far, however, no one knows exactly, and we don't know whether our new sidewalks are to be of gravel furnished from the graft, sand from the bar, common everyday brick, or granitoid such as real cities have.

We fully agree with the Lexington Leader, however, in the following, which applies as well to Paducah:

"Tax rates" are not always conclusive proofs of the comparative tax collections of several cities, or of the comparative efficiency of municipal administrations.

"Few cities in the United States assess property upon as high a valuation as Lexington, and few cities of its class raise as much additional revenue for public expenditure from special taxes, licenses, etc."

"If Mayor Duncan were to prepare a comparative statement of the annual receipts and expenditures of the cities he has named it would be a more effective answer to the offending paragraph than he has quoted."

SOCIETY, NOT THE CRIME.

The New York World recently criticized the sentiment in certain parts of Kentucky that prompted or pardoned such heinous crimes as the Maroon assassination at Jackson. A few papers took up the cudgels in behalf of the state in the same way that the pot called the kettle black. They cited the number of crimes in New York and other places, without justifying those in ours, and the World, in reply, explains it was not the crime itself, but the state of society that connived at it, that was criticized. The World brings home to us some unpleasant truths in the following:

"In its strictures upon the form of chivalry that selects the court houses of Kentucky as suitable ambushes for shooting political opponents in the back the World has not had the happiness to win the approval of the Washington Post. The Post retorts that various crimes are committed in New York, some of which are unknown in Kentucky.

"Very true. Every community, with the possible exception of Pitcairn Island, has its criminals. It would be unfair to hold New York or Kentucky or the District of Columbia responsible for the deeds perpetrated within its borders from individual depravity. What the World ventured to criticize was a state of society in which murder had become a normal feature of political controversy, apparently with the connivance of the whole community. Men are murdered in New York, but it is not customary here for a man to be besieged in his own house for three months by assassins, to be finally shot down on the steps of the court house and to lie for ten minutes before anybody dares to touch his body. It is not usual in a New York murder case for the district attorney to say that he does not intend to prosecute anybody because such an act on his part would be suicidal."

The postoffice department is hot after some of the men holding good, easy jobs at Uncle Sam's expense, who have been instrumental in agitating litigation against the government on claims trumped up on all sorts of technicalities. The government has to fight these kind of suits brought by its own employees almost constantly, and now has claims amounting to about $14,000,000 brought by postal employees for expenses incurred while traveling. The clerk at the head of the move has been asked to show cause why he should not be dismissed from the service, and if he does it will probably be a surprise to those who think they know what is in prospect for him. The way of the agitator is hard.

Hon. S. T. Moore, a prominent young Republican of Princeton, Caldwell county, is being urged by his friends throughout the state to run for the Republican nomination for secretary of state. Mr. Moore was formerly superintendent of the schools there and is now serving his third term as postmaster. He is a young man who has the good wishes and respect of all the people who know him, and who will have a strong following, if indications count for anything, when the state convention is held. He is well qualified for the place, and will doubtless permit his friends to secure it for him if possible.

One of the Democratic mayoralty aspirants, according to reports, is going to make his race on a platform of municipal ownership, paying particular attention to municipal ownership of the water works. When the people, no matter of what politics, find out that they would have to pay for water just the same if the city owned the water works, they will probably see to it that the city is not bonded for water works.

Hon. John G. Carlisle's little joke about the Democrats standing a good chance to win "if their leaders could get together" is perhaps not fully appreciated by the Democrats. Mr. Carlisle is probably trying to get even with them for the many mean things they have said about him since he refused to support Bryan and the 16 to 1 crowd.

Hon. John W. Yerkes, one of Kentucky's most honored and illustrious Republicans, is being favorably mentioned as a candidate for vice president on the Roosevelt ticket. He would no doubt add strength to the ticket, for he is a man universally liked and respected by people of all political parties.

Cadiz, Ky., May 20.—The dwelling house of Circuit Clerk A. C. Burnett was destroyed by fire Monday. The fire was discovered about 3 o'clock and was thought to have been extinguished and everybody retired again, but in about an hour they were awakened to find the garret in a full blaze. Most of the household and kitchen furniture and clothing were destroyed. Loss about $2,400, with $1,500 insurance.

A PIONEER GONE

Mr. Rowland Herring Passes Peacefully Away.

Had Lived Here Since a Boy—Leaves a Large Family.

Mr. Rowland Herring died last night at his home, 523 South Third street, from rheumatism after years of suffering, which recently rendered his condition critical. He began to sink yesterday and peacefully passed away at 7 o'clock last night, surrounded by his family.

Mr. Herring was born in Old Providence, Tenn., April 1, 1827, and came to Paducah when he was 18 years old. He was early in life a builder and contractor, but later a grocer. He prospered and in 1884 retired from business.

He was for fourteen years a member of the council, and did good work there. He was honored by all who knew him as a man of intelligence and uprightness, and was always considered a good, progressive citizen. He became afflicted with rheumatism about nine years ago, and soon was helpless, which condition remained until death. He had for several years been a complete invalid, moving about only in an invalid's chair.

The deceased married Miss Harriett Boone in Paducah in 1855, and she, with the following sons and daughters, survives him: Mrs. Hattie Boone and Mrs. Henry Henneberger; Messrs. James, Gaither and Press Herring of this city; Mr. Robert Herring of Memphis; Mr. Rowland Herring of Cincinnati and Mr. Ben Herring of Louisville, besides many nieces and nephews, among them Mr. E. G. Boone. Mr. Herring was the last member of his immediate family.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, burial at Oak Grove, under the auspices of the Knights of Honor.

THE CLEVELAND PROGRAM.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

Col. Watterson sizes up the Cleveland situation in this way: He says the ex-president's admirers have been "misled partly by the clamor of the mugwump contingent and wholly by the St. Louis demonstration," and they think they can capture the Democratic two-thirds rule. Assuming that they can nominate him, they take it for granted that "he can carry New York. They do not doubt that they can buy New Jersey and Connecticut. But one additional electoral vote will be needed, and they are not wide of the mark in thinking they can flip this from some of the many rotten borough states of the Rocky mountain range. As for the solid South, it will have to take him willy-nilly. It cannot help itself."

But the colonel is not deceived by the outlook. He sees and says that Cleveland and the Morgan syndicate, which is booming him, could neither carry New York nor buy New Jersey or Connecticut. Moreover, as he looks at things, "Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri and, perhaps, Tennessee, would become not merely doubtful states, but almost certainly Republican states." This looks to be a pretty safe forecast. It will be well for those who may be inclined to question this prophecy to remember one thing. The colonel saw this Cleveland renomination cloud long ago, when it was not nearly so large as a man's hand. When he first mentioned his discovery the world laughed at him. It is not doing any laughing now.

Of course the Cleveland third term folly has a chance to commit suicide before the convention of 1904 meets. If it should be successful in the convention, however, the people will make short work of it at the polls. Cleveland's sycophants say that their idol is popular with an element of the Republican party. This is one of the things, if it exists, that they ought to keep silent about. To the extent that Cleveland may be agreeable to a few Republicans, he will be cut by many times that many Democrats. The men who elected Cleveland when he was elected did this because they thought he was different from the Republicans. If he fooled them then he cannot do it again. As between a Democrat with Republican leanings and a Republican who is robustly and comprehensively Republican, the Republicans will command the support of hundreds of thousands of stalwart and straight-out Democrats.

STOCKS.

Wall Street, New York, May 20.—Liquidation was resumed soon after the opening, and was prominent throughout the entire list, but more so in Atchison and the industrials. The stock was well taken, however, for there are a great many standard stocks which are now selling on a fair investment basis. The United States supreme court has reversed the interstate commerce commission regarding advance in freight rates in the south, this should have a favorable effect on the market. The market is still threatened with gold exports, however, and the labor situation everywhere is drifting into an acute condition. So far there has been no indication of revival of interest on the part of the public, and the trading of the day was practically all between professionals. The rate of call money has not been affected and there was little doing in time loans. It is interesting to note that a year ago yesterday was low day before the big advance started which culminated in September. Conservative bankers say that a reaction is due and that there should be a substantial recovery from this level.

COTTON.

New York, May 20.—This market continued on its wild upward course, and all previous records were broken, although the advance today was principally in the deferred futures, the December option selling above 9 1/2. W. P. Brown is still in New York and the advance in the price was considered to be due principally to his buying. Mr. Brown says: "I am still long of cotton and will continue in that position for some time. I base my judgment in this respect on the fact which is now apparent that the stock of actual cotton is very scarce. I do not think that the mills will close on account of the present price of the staple. The new crop this year will be unusually late, hence record prices are bound to result." On the other hand bearish views were set forth as follows by one of the leading opponents of Mr. Brown. The United States census report confirmed its previous estimate of last year's cotton production at 10,563,000 bales, there has been marketed from September last 10,067,000 bales, this leaves the unmarketed stock 600,000 bales, and this does not suggest a great shortage. Cotton is selling at 11 7-8 a pound at which price the apparent surplus is worth $36,000,000 and any attempt to corner it and carry prices to compel consumers to buy it at the prevailing high prices is no small undertaking, and if cotton remains around the present prices New Orleans or in other words W. P. Brown will be called upon in the near future to take a lot of cotton.

ARENZ & GILBERT.

M'KINLEY'S FAVORITE FLOWER.

How the Carnation Came to Be Selected by the Late President. "Carnation day" has but recently been observed all over the country as a sort of tribute to the late President McKinley, who during the later years of his life was seldom seen without one of these blossoms in his buttonhole. It is related that Mr. McKinley never showed any particular fondness for the carnation until some girls attending the Lake Erie college at Painesville, O., elected him an honorary member of their class and pinned their class flower in his buttonhole. The incident occurred on Nov. 19, 1893, while the president, then governor, was in Painesville, a guest of the Garfield club. He devoted no little time to the college girls who had honored him, and his attitude thereafter showed that he appreciated their admiration. He often remembered and was remembered by them thereafter. Mrs. McKinley also took great interest in the class and its insignia and was accustomed to provide a bunch of carnations for her husband's room each morning. The first reunion of the class took place when Mr. McKinley was nominated for the presidency and the class sent him a congratulatory telegram. He visited the college several times and was a member of its board of trustees.

DUTIES OF JAPANESE WOMEN.

Are Taught to Work and Manage Households Excellently.

No matter what the station a Japanese woman occupies she is brought up to be able to sew, cook and attend to every detail of work about her home. In the land of the chrysanthemum the highest class of women never go to market. The market comes to them—that is, the dealers, call and offer their wares for sale at their customers' doors. The fish merchant brings his stock and, if any is sold, prepares it for cooking. The green grocer, the cake dealer, and nowadays, the meat man, all go to their patrons' houses.

Nearly all Japanese women make their own clothes; at all events even the very richest embroider their garments themselves. Dinner is served at or a little before dusk the year round. A small table about one foot square and eight inches high is set before each person. On this is a lacquer tray with space for four or five dishes, each four or five inches in diameter.

There are definite plates for each little bowl and dish. The rice bowl is on the left, the soup bowl in the middle.

CHASED DEER ON BICYCLE.

Animal Seemingly Enjoyed His Race With the Machine.

C. D. Storms of Honesdale, Pa., was taking a bicycle trip on the towpath of the abandoned Delaware and Hudson canal the other day. When he was between Glen Eyre and Rowland, in Pike county, says the New York Sun, a big buck sprang out of a thicket and into the canal just ahead of him.

The deer paused a moment and took a wondering look at the man on the wheel, and then went bounding along the dry bed of the big ditch. Storms put on all speed, but the buck led him a chase of more than a mile, keeping well ahead of him.

Coming to a lock in the canal the buck leaped out of the canal at one bound, cleared the towpath at another, took to the Lackawanna river, crossed to the other side, bounded across the track of the Erie railroad's Honesdale branch, a few yards ahead of an east-bound coal train, and disappeared into the woods.

POLICE COURT.

An Unusual Kind of Petty Larceny Case.

Will Connor, Almost a Wreck, Is in the Tolls.

The wife of Mack Wright, colored, was arraigned in police court this morning for petty larceny and her case is a most peculiar one. A colored woman named Williams claims that she became ill and had a pocketbook containing $2.40, which she gave to the Wright woman to keep for her during her illness. When she recovered and asked for the money the Wright woman could not produce it and the owner procured a warrant. The defendant admits she received the pocketbook but that she "must have lost it." She placed it in her pocket, she explained, and this was the last she ever saw of it. Judge Sanders heard the testimony and left the case open until Saturday when the attorney will argue. It is thought that the case will result in a dismissal.

Tom Wood, colored, was fined $30 and costs for whipping his wife.

The case against the Armour Packing company for maintaining a nuisance by keeping a chicken slaughtering house on Third street, was continued until tomorrow.

Will Connor, white, was held over to the action of the grand jury in a house breaking case and committed to jail in default of a $250 bond.

Connor was charged with breaking into the house of Fred Yopp and stealing his clothes and later selling the garments to a secondhand dealer. Connor admitted that he took the clothes and said he bought cocaine with the money, and that Cordie Russell, a Hurst boy and himself used the drug. Connor is well known in police court. He comes of a good family and can attribute his present depraved condition to whiskey and women. He is almost a wreck mentally and physically.

OUT OF SERVICE.

I. O. WILL SEND A NEW BOAT TO TRANSFER TRAINS.

The Illinois Central transfer steamboat Osborne has been ordered out of the service by the local inspectors, Stockholm and Green and was yesterday stopped and the tug Lizzie Archibald substituted. The tug brought the trains over on a barge but this morning the Woolfolk was chartered and will do the work until the Osborne is repaired or another boat substituted. It is reported that the Osborne might not be placed in service again here and that another boat will be secured for this place. Nothing definite has been decided, however.

CAUTION!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of consumption and throat and lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists [and others] that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe coughs, bronchitis, croup—and especially for consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cents size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists. DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Miss Gould's favorite quotation is from Psalms 1:15, "Happy is that people whose God is the Lord."

GOOD HEALTH REPORTED—Doctors report that there is comparatively little sickness in Paducah at present, but that if something is not done to improve sanitation everybody stands a good chance to get sick later on. The number of patients is unusually small for this season, however.

BE INDEPENDENT

IT'S EASY TO SHAKE OFF THE COFFEE HABIT.

There are many people who make the humiliating acknowledgment that they are dependent upon coffee to "brace them up" every little while. These have never learned the truth about Postum Cereal Coffee, which makes leaving off coffee a simple matter and brings health and strength in place of coffee ills. A lady of Davenport, Ia., who has used Postum Food Coffee for five years is competent to talk upon the subject. She says:

"I am a school teacher and during extra work when I thought I needed to be braced up I used to indulge in rich, strong coffee, of which I was very fond and upon which I thought I was dependent.

"I began to have serious heart palpitation and at times had sharp pains around the heart and more or less stomach trouble. I read about Postum and got some to try. I dropped coffee, took up the Postum and it worked such wonders for me that many of my friends took it up.

"In a short time I was well again, even able to attend evening socials. And I did not miss my coffee at all. Now I can truthfully say that I have been repaid fully for the change I made.

"I have no indication of heart disease and not once in the past four years have I had a sick headache or bilious spell.

"My father, 78 years old, is a Postum enthusiast and feels that his good health in a large measure is due to the six cups of good Postum which he enjoys each day." Name furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There is a reason.

"I have seen it used in a number of convalescent cases, and have seen several other tonics used, but I found that those who used Peruna had the quickest relief.

"Peruna seems to restore vitality, increase bodily vigor and renew health and strength in a wonderfully short time."—MRS. KATE TAYLOR.

Working on a Flying Boat.

Herr Gustav Koch of Berlin proposes to construct a boat which will be able to fly. The experiment, he says, will be conducted on water, by means of which the danger of cross-country trial trips would be avoided. It has adjustable steering apparatus and horizontal sails.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Completely Cured Me.

Lucky the sufferer from nervous diseases whose symptoms are as plainly marked as those of Mr. Powell, as given below. Too often the symptoms are mistaken for some derangement of the digestive organs and the wrong treatment administered and continued until too late to make a change beneficial. Too many doctors make the mistake of trying to cure the symptoms instead of the disease. Dr. Miles' Nervine goes to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the nervous system, puts life and vigor into every muscle, every fibre, every tissue, every nerve cell. There is nothing so good for the nerves as Nervine.

"About four years ago I suffered from pains around my heart, and after the least exertion it would palpitate in such a manner as to cause me much distress. I had a feeling of oppression in my chest, was nervous, could not sleep, lost my appetite and flesh, had pains in back and shoulder, my food did not digest and I could not eat anything without causing distress. My feet were cold at times and I became exceedingly weak and all run down. I tried ten different doctors, one or two of whom gave me temporary relief. Finally I saw that Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine was advertised to cure sufferers from such nervous disorders as mine and procured a bottle. I am now permanently cured and I cannot say enough for the Restorative Nervine."—H. L. POWELL, Henderson, N.C.

Butting Into Society

Hank Cut Ice In Circle City,
but Wasn't Worth Beans
In Boston

From "Letters From a Self Made Merchant to His Son," by George Horace Lorimer. By permission of Small, Maynard & Co., Publishers, Boston

I never see a fellow trying to crawl or to buy his way into society that I don't think of my old friend, Hank Smith, and his wife Kate—Kate Botts she was before he married her—and how they tried to butt their way through the upper crust.

Hank and I were boys together in Missouri, and he stayed along in the old town after I left. I heard of him on and off as tending store a little and farming a little and leading a good deal. Then I forgot all about him until one day a few years ago when he turned up in the papers as Captain Henry Smith, the Klondike gold king, just back from Circle City with a million in dust and anything you please in claims. There's never any limit to what a miner may be worth in those, except his imagination.

I was a little puzzled when a week later my office boy brought me a card reading Colonel Henry Augustus Botts-Smythe, but I supposed it was some distinguished foreigner who had come to size me up so that he could round out his roast on Chicago in his new book, and I told the boy to show the colonel in.

I've got a pretty good memory for faces, and I'd bought too much store plug of Hank in my time not to know him, even with a clean shave and a plug hat. Some men dry up with success, but it was just spouting out of Hank. Told me he'd made his pile and that he was tired of living on the slag heap; that he'd spent his whole life where money hardly whispered, let alone talked, and he was going now where it would shout. Wanted to know what was the use of being a nob if a fellow wasn't the noblest sort of a nob. Said he'd bought a house on Beacon Hill, in Boston, and that if I'd prick up my ears occasionally I'd hear something drop into the Back Bay. Handed me his new card four times and explained that it was the rawest sort of dog to carry a brace of names in your card holder; that it gave you the drop on the swells every time and that they just had to throw up both hands and pass you the pot when you showed down. Said that Botts was old English for Smith; that Smythe was new American for Smith; the Augustus was just a fancy touch, a sort of high card kicker.

I didn't explain to Hank, because it was congratulations and not explanations that he wanted, and I make it a point to show a customer the line of goods that he's looking for. And I never heard the full particulars of his experiences in the east, though from what I learned afterward Hank struck Boston with a bang all right.

He located his claim on Beacon Hill between a Mayflower descendant and a Declaration signer's great-grandson, breeds which believe that when the Lord made them he was through and that the rest of us just happened. And he hadn't been in town two hours before he started in to make improvements. There was a high wrought iron railing in front of his house, and he had that gilded first thing, because, as he said, he wasn't running a receiving vault and he didn't want any mistakes. Then he bought a nice open brougham, had the wheels painted red, hired a nigger coachman and started out in style to be sociable and get acquainted. Left his card all the way down one side of Beacon street and then drove back, leaving it on the other. Everywhere he stopped he found that the whole family was out. Kept it up a week, on and off, but didn't seem to have any luck. Thought that the men must be hot sports and the women great gadders to keep on the jump so much. Allowed that they were the liveliest little lot of fleas that he had ever chased. Decided to quit trying to nail 'em one at a time and planned out something that he reckoned would round up the whole bunch.

Hank sent out a thousand invitations to his grand opening, as he called it; left one at every house within a mile. Had a brass band on the front steps and fireworks on the roof. Ordered forty kegs from the brewery and hired a fancy mixer to sling together mild snorts, as he called them, for the ladies. They tell me that when the band got to going good on the steps and the fireworks on the roof even Beacon street looked out the windows to see what was doing. There must have been 10,000 people in the street and not a soul but Hank and his wife and the mixer in the house. Some one yelled "Speech!" and then the whole crowd took it up, till Hank came out on the steps. He shut off the band with one hand and stopped the fireworks with the other. Said that speechmaking wasn't his strangle hold; that he'd been living on snowballs in the Klondike for so long that his gas pipe was frozen, but that this welcome started the ice, and he thought about three fingers of the plumber's favorite prescription would cut out the frost. Would the crowd join him? He had invited a few friends in for the evening, but there seemed to be some misunderstanding about the date, and he hated to have the good stuff curdle on his hands.

While this was going on the Mayflower descendant was telephoning for the police from one side and the signer's great-grandson from the other, and just as the crowd yelled and broke for the house two patrol wagons full of policemen got there. But they had to turn in a riot call and bring out the reserves before they could break up Hank's little Boston tea party.

After all, Hank did what he started out to do with his party—rounded up all his neighbors in a bunch, though not exactly according to schedule. For next morning there were so many descendants and great-grandsons in the police court to prefer charges that it looked like a reunion of the pilgrim fathers. The judge fined Hank on sixteen counts and bound him over to keep the peace for a hundred years. That afternoon he left for the west on a special, because the limited didn't get there quick enough. But before going he tacked on the front door of his house a sign which read:

Neighbors paying their party calls will please not heave rocks through windows to attract attention. Not in and not going to be. Come back to Circle City for a little quiet. Yours truly,

HANK SMITH.

N. B.—Too swift for your uncle.

Hank dropped by my office for a minute on his way to Frisco. Said he liked things lively, but there was altogether too much roughhouse on Beacon Hill for him. Judged that as the crowd which wasn't invited was so blamed sociable, the one which was invited would have stayed a week if it hadn't slipped up on the date. That might be the Boston idea, but he wanted a little more refinement in his. Said he was a pretty free spender and would hold his end up, but he hated a hog. Of course I told Hank that Boston wasn't all that it was cracked up to be in the school histories and that Circle City wasn't so tough as it read in the newspapers, for there was no way of making him understand that he might have lived in Boston for a hundred years without being invited to a strawberry sociable. Because a fellow cuts ice on the arctic circle it doesn't follow that he's going to be worth beans on the Back Bay.

HISTORIC CHARACTER

WELL KNOWN WESTERN GAM-
BLER IS DEAD.

Tucson, Ariz., May 20.—With the death last night of "Old Caribou Brown" there passed away one of the most picturesque characters in all the frontier history of the great Southwest. Henry F. Brown, famed in sporting circles of the Southwest under the sobriquet of "Caribou Brown," was for a quarter of a century one of the most notable figures in the gambling circles of this section of the country. He died at the age of 87. "Caribou Brown" was a native of County Limerick, Ireland, and in his early manhood followed the sea as captain of a merchantman. Brown for a quarter of a century made his various homes in Tucson, Tombstone, Prescott and Phoenix. He made and lost a dozen fortunes over the gambling table, but throughout his checkered career he maintained the name of being honest.

STRIKE STATUS

NO AGREEMENT IS IN PROSPECT
AT PRESENT.

There is no change in the carpenter-caulker strike, both sides remaining firm.

This morning the proprietors stated that they had made no agreement and could not say that they would. "We can not afford to grant the demands," one explained, "while other places are paying less. This would drive the work away from Paducah and cost us a great deal. We are willing to pay what Mound City and other Ohio river plants are paying, but no more."

The carpenters and caulkers claim that no work has so far been driven away from Paducah as all boats brought here by the companies before and after the strike are still here waiting for repairs. Carpenters are still leaving the city, four leaving last night for Cairo. A telegram was received this morning from Lascorabe, Mo., offering work for four men at $8.50 per day for nine hours work.

REVOLUTIONISTS AHEAD.

THEY ARE DOING TELLING
WORK AGAINST GOVERNMENT.

Washington, May 20.—Advices of a thoroughly reliable character received in Washington, under date of May 1, show that the Venezuelan revolutionists are not only holding their own, but are making considerable headway. The advices say:

"Within sixty miles of La Guayra, in the Rio Chico district, a battle took place recently in which the government lost over a thousand men, and about 300 wounded were brought back to La Guayra after a two days' fight."

United States Newspapers.

The number of copies of daily newspapers circulated last year in the United States was 2,865,466,000, and of weeklies, 1,208,190,000.

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening in the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

Re-written and Rendered into Modern English from Sir Edwin Cassiodor's Memoir

By EDWIN CASKODEN [CHARLES MAJOR]

Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Dornen-Merrill Company

Great heaven! I thought I should go out of my senses. She should have told me gradually. I had to do something to express my exultation, so I walked over to a bronze statue of Bacchus, about my size—that is, height—put my hat, which I had been carrying under my arm, on his head, cut a few capers in an entirely new and equally antic step, and then drew back and knocked that Bacchus down. Jane thought I had gone stark mad, and her eyes grew big with wonder, but I walked proudly back to her after my victory over Bacchus and reassured her—with a few of Mary's messages that I had still left over, if the truth must be told. Then we made arrangements that resulted in our marriage next morning.

Accordingly Queen Mary and one or two others went with us down to a little church, where, as fortune would have it, there was a little priest ready to join together in the holy bonds of wedlock little Jane and little me—everything so appropriate, you see. I suppose in the whole world we couldn't have found another set of conditions so harmonious. Mary laughed and cried and laughed again, and clapped her hands over and over, and said it was "like a play wedding," and, as she kissed Jane, quietly slipped over her head a beautiful diamond necklace that was worth full $10,000—aside, that is, from the millions of actual value because it came from Mary. "A play wedding" it was, and a play life it has been ever since.

We were barely settled at court in Paris when Mary began to put her plans in motion and unsettle things generally. I could not but recall Hen-

Jane thought I had gone stark mad. My sympathy toward Louis, for the young queen soon took it upon herself to make life a burden to "the Father of His People," and in that particular line I suppose she had no equal in all the length and breadth of Christendom.

I heartily detested King Louis, largely, I think, because of prejudice absorbed from Mary, but he was, in fact, a fairly good old man, and at times I could but pity him. He was always soft in heart and softer in head, especially where women were concerned. Take his crazy attempt to seize the Countess of Croy while he was yet Duke of Orleans, and his infatuation for the Italian woman, for whom he built the elaborate burial vault—much it must have comforted her! Then his marriage to dictatorial little Anne of Brittany, for whom he had induced Pope Alexander to divorce him from the poor little crippled widow Joan. In consideration of this divorce he had put Caesar Borgia, Pope Alexander's son, on his feet, financially and politically. I think he must have wanted the owl back again before he was done with Anne, because Anne was a termagant and ruled him with the heaviest rod of iron she could lift.

But this last passion, the flickering, sputtering flame of his dotage, was the worst of all, both subjectively and objectively, both as to his senile fondness for the English princess and her impish tormenting of him. From the first he evinced the most violent delight in Mary, who repaid it by holding him off and evading him in a manner so cool, audacious and adroit that it stamped her queen of all the arts feminine and demonic. Pardon me, ladies, if I couple these two arts, but you must admit they are at times somewhat akin. Soon she eluded him so completely that for days he would not have a glimpse of her, while she was perhaps riding, walking or coquetting with some of the court gallants, who aided and abetted her in every way they could. He became almost frantic in pursuit of his elusive bride, and would expostulate with her, when he could catch her, and smile uneasily, like a man who is the victim of a practical joke of which he does not see or enjoy the point. On such occasions she would laugh in his face, then grow angry—which was so easy for her to do—and, I grieve to say, would sometimes almost swear at him in a manner to make the pious though oftentimes lax virtuous court ladies shudder with horror. She would at other times make sport of his youthful ardor and tell him in all seriousness that it was indecorous for him to behave so and frighten her, a poor, timid little child, with his impetuosities. Then she would manage to give him the slip, and he would go off and play a game of cards with himself, firmly convinced in his own feeble way that woman's nature had a tincture of the devil in it. He was the soul of conciliatory kindness to the young vixen, but at times she would break violently into tears, accuse him of cruelly mistreating her, a helpless woman and a stranger in his court, and threaten to go home to dear old England and tell her brother, King Henry, all about it and have him put things to right and redress her wrongs generally. In fact, she acted the part of injured innocence so perfectly that the poor old man would apologize for the wrongs she invented and try to coax her into a good humor. Thereupon she would weep more bitterly than ever, grow hysterical and require to be carried off by her women, when recovery and composure were usually instantaneous. Of course the court gossip soon carried stories of the quick recoveries to the king, and when he spoke to Mary of them she put on her injured air again and turned the tables by upbraiding him for believing such calumnies about her, who was so good to him and loved him so dearly.

Mary would often pout for days together and pretend illness. Upon one occasion she kept the king waiting at her door all the morning, while she, having slipped through the window, was riding with some of the young people in the forest. When she returned—through the window—she went to the door and scolded the poor old king for keeping her waiting penned up in her room all the morning. And he apologized!

She changed the dinner hour to noon in accordance with the English custom, and had a heavy supper at night, when she would make the king gorge himself with unhealthful food and coax him "to drink as much as Brother Henry," which invariably resulted in Louis de Valois finding lodgment under the table. This amused the whole court except a few old cronies and physicians, who, of course, were scandalized beyond measure. She took the king on long rides with her on cold days, and would jolt him almost to death and freeze him until the cold tears streamed down his poor pinched nose, making him feel like a half-animated icicle and wish that he were one, in fact.

At night she would have her balls and keep him up till morning, drinking and dancing, or trying to dance, with her until his poor old heels, and his head, too, for that matter, were like to fall off; then she would slip away from him and lock herself in her room. December, say I, let May alone; she certainly will kill you. Despite which sound advice, I doubt not December will go on coveting May up to the end of the chapter, each old fellow—being such a fine man for his age, you understand—fondly believing himself an exception. Age in a fool is damnable.

Mary was killing Louis as certainly and deliberately as if she were feeding him slow poison. He was very weak and decrepit at best, being compelled frequently upon public occasions, such, for example, as the coronation tournament of which I have spoken, to lie upon a couch.

Mary's conduct was really cruel, but then, remember the provocation, and that she was acting in self defense. All this was easier for her than you might suppose, for the king's grasp of power, never very strong, was beginning to relax even what little grip it had. All faces were turned toward the rising sun, young Francis, duke of Angoulême, the king's distant cousin, who would soon be king in Louis' place. As this young rising sun, himself vastly smitten with Mary, openly encouraged her in what she did, the courtiers of course followed suit, and the old king found himself surrounded by a court only too ready to be amused by his lively young queen at his expense.

This condition of affairs Mary welcomed with her whole soul, and to accent it and nail assurance, I fear, played over so lightly and coyly upon the heartstrings of the young duke, which responded all too loudly to her velvet touch and almost frightened her to death with their volume of sound later on. This Francis d'Angoulême, the dauphin, had fallen desperately in love with Mary at first sight, something against which the fact that he was married to Claude, daughter of Louis, in no way militated. He was a very distant relative of Louis, going away back to St. Louis for his heirship to the French crown. The king had daughters in plenty, but, as you know, the gallant Frenchmen say, according to their law, "The realm of France is so great and glorious a heritage that it may not be taken by a woman." Too great and glorious to have been governed by a woman now and then, for a country always prospers under a queen.

Francis had for many years lived at court as the recognized heir, and, as the custom was, called his distant cousin Louis "Uncle." "Uncle" Louis in turn called Francis "Ce Gros Garçon," and Queen Mary called him "Monsieur, mon beau fils," in a mock-motherly manner that was very laughable. A mother of eighteen to a "good boy" of twenty-two! Dangerous relationship! And dangerous indeed it would have been for Mary had she not been as pure and true as she was willful and impetuous. "Mon beau fils" allowed neither his wife nor the respect he owed the king to stand in the way of his very marked attention to the queen. His position as heir and his long residence at court, almost as son to Louis, gave him ample opportunities for pressing his unseemly suit. He was the first to see Mary at the meeting place this side of Abbeville, and was the king's representative on all occasions. "Beau fils" was rather a handsome fellow, but thought himself vastly handsomer than he was, and had some talents, which he was likewise careful to estimate at their full value, to say the least. He was very well liked by women, and in turn considered himself irresistible. He was very impressionable to feminine charms, was at heart a libertine, and, as he grew older, became a debauchee whose memory will taint France for centuries to come. Mary saw his weakness more clearly than his wickedness, being blinded to the latter by the veil of her own innocence. She laughed at and with him, and permitted herself a great deal of his company—so much, in fact, that I grew a little jealous for Brandon's sake, and, if the truth must be told, for the first time began to have doubts of her. I seriously feared that when Louis should die Brandon might find a much more dangerous rival in the new king, who, although married, would probably try to keep Mary at his court even should he be driven to the extreme of divorcing Claude as Claude's father had divorced Joan. The "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'"

Let us assume that your shoes fit you. Now what next? What is most important? Unquestionably "Style!" Demand that a shoe shall possess "Style!" If it has style and little else you want it; if it has not style but everything else, you don't want it!

The "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'" is unique.

It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the "Dorothy Dodd" is a totally different construction from any other ladies' shoe made. It holds the foot firmly at the waist (that's the instep), prevents the toes from slipping forward, and thus gives a correct poise in walking. Yet it makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it till you see it.

Just for once try the "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'"

PALE ALE AND KY-LO

AGAIN DECLARED NON-INTOXICATING BY THE COURT.

A case of much interest was tried before Circuit Judge R. E. Maiden of Dresden, Tenn., in which W. D. Frazier of Martin, Tenn., was charged with selling Laevison's Kyo and Pale Ale, which were claimed to be intoxicating; but after testing these drinks and hearing the evidence of a number of witnesses, and the proof showing them to be non-intoxicating, the jury dismissed the case, deciding that it was not a violation of the local option law to sell these beverages.

The decision is of much importance to A. M. Laevison & Co. of this city and their many customers in this state and Tennessee.

BEING HELD.

SUSPECT CAUGHT YESTERDAY BELIEVED TO BE THE RIGHT MAN.

Jack Johnson, the negro arrested yesterday as a suspect, is still being held, and it is thought that a man will arrive today to identify him. Johnson's alias is "Black Jack," and he is wanted, it is thought, for maliciously assaulting a man on a tie boat on the Cumberland river. Marshal McCollum, of Kuttawa, has telephoned for a witness who is supposed to have seen the assault to identify the prisoner.

STILL WILD

EPH CARTER WILL PROBABLY NOT RECOVER.

No new developments are reported in the case of Eph Carter, colored, and the police have been unable to locate the man who assaulted him, although they claim they know his name. Carter is much worse and is not expected to live. He has continued violent and is kept tied down. Dr. Robert Rivers, city physician, thinks he is suffering from concussion of the brain.

Miss Annie Hock has returned to Arlington, after a visit to Miss Nellie Husbands of West Broadway.

Theatrical Notes.

A fairly large audience was at the Casino last night to see the second performance of the all-star vaudeville company, and left better pleased than ever with the show. Manager English has succeeded in bringing to Paducah one of the best vaudeville shows on the road, and, as before stated, every number on the program is a star act. The slack wire act and the mechanical doll are acts hard to surpass and are alone worth the price of admission.

Deal's concert band continues the afternoon concerts, the program beginning at 4 o'clock and ending at 5. The same hours will be maintained during Sunday. The orchestra, a feature of the show now running at the Casino, was well applauded last night on several numbers and is preparing for the opera next week. The orchestra is now complete and the management feels proud of the standard attained by the organization.

A stand is being erected near the theater and refreshments of all kinds will be sold. The park this summer will equal any city park and will be a credit to the city. The car service last night was excellent. The crowd was again well handled.

The people are guessing whether the mechanical doll at the Casino is really an automaton or a real man. It is a great act and everybody is guessing. It is reported it is a man, and that about Thursday night he will have something to say to the audience. Hundreds of people are wondering and an oft heard question is "Is that a man or a doll?"

LAWYERS WERE WARM

BUT THE JUDGE WAS CHILLY, AND THAT COUNTED SOME.

A number of attorneys in Paducah do not care to repeat an experience they had yesterday. Circuit Judge L. D. Husbands, who has been ill for some time past, but has been holding court this week, yesterday felt chilly, and notwithstanding the fact that the mercury was soaring up in the 80's he had to have a fire built in the court room.

The stove was at times red hot, but the court seemed comfortable, although the attorneys were unmistakably miserable. To make a hot time hotter the judge had the windows and the doors fastened to keep out draughts, and the attorneys were then cooped up with a red hot stove in a room becoming rapidly warmer every moment.

Some of them were really suffering from the heat and became sick at their stomach, but they could not complain, because the court runs things to suit himself and the court felt chilly. At noon it was announced that there would be no more court that day, because the judge was not feeling well. The attorneys were glad of it, because neither were they.

EXPOSITION MARCH.

MISS ISABEL MOHAN HAS COMPLETED PRETTY COMPOSITION.

Copies of the "St. Louis Exposition March," attractively gotten up and dedicated to Rev. H. W. Jansen, pastor of St. Frances De Sales church, Paducah, have been received in the city and are on sale at R. D. Clements'. The march was written by Miss Isabel Mohan, one of Paducah's brightest young ladies and most talented musicians, and is said to be exceedingly pretty by those who have heard it. Miss Mohan is a pianist of unusual ability and it will be very gratifying for her friends to learn that she is devoting some of her time to musical composition.
